Procedure for Executing Contracts in Support of Fund Raising, Donor Cultivation and UGA Alumni Association Events

June 8, 2018

1. Why do we need this procedure? For your protection and the Institute's protection.

UGA employees do not have the authority to sign on behalf of UGA or UGAF any contracts without review and approval by either the Office of Legal Affairs or UGAF. A contract signed by a University employee without proper review may subject the employee to personal liability for the contract.

2. What contracts should be submitted to UGAF?
 - a. All contracts in support of fund raising and/or donor cultivation should be submitted directly to the UGAF for review and execution.
 - b. All contracts in support of UGA Alumni Association events should be submitted directly to UGAF for review and execution.
3. What is the process for review and execution of contracts by the Foundation?
 - a. The UGA employee responsible for oversight of the contract performance should carefully read and review the contract to ensure terms proposed meet expectations.
 - b. The UGA employee responsible for oversight of the contract performance should also complete the attached checklist.
 - c. Attach the special event/venue contract to the completed checklist.
 - d. If a deposit check is required upon execution of the contract, complete a check request along with all necessary supporting documentation including business purpose, whether or not alcohol will be served, and list of invitees/attendees.
 - e. Send completed checklist, contract, and completed check request along with required supporting documentation to the University Foundation to the attention of Expenditure Control.
4. The Foundation will review the contract, contact you with any questions, negotiate with the vendor regarding any unacceptable legal terms, execute the contract if possible and return the contract along with any required deposit check.
